TAX-SMART GIVING THROUGH SECURITIES

Donating appreciated securities to BC Women’s Health Foundation is easy and a tax-wise way to give.

Thanks to tax law changes in 2006, Canadians who donate appreciated securities directly to a registered charity eliminate capital gains tax on the investment. You’ll receive a charitable tax receipt for the amount of the proceeds, and you’ll advance women’s health care in BC and support women’s health research.

Donating securities to BC Women’s Health Foundation is easy and tax-smart. Simply follow the step by step stock instructions below for more information. Eligible gifts of stocks and securities include shares listed on a Canadian or American stock exchange, a share of the capital stock of a mutual fund corporation, a unit of a mutual fund trust, or an interest in a related segregated fund trust.

Once the securities have been transferred to BC Women’s Health Foundation, we make every effort to dispose of the donated securities within 3 business days of receipt; however, due to market restrictions this may take longer. Once sold, we provide an official receipt for income tax purposes, based on the actual sale proceeds.

The example below shows how stocks or securities make a more financially wise option over selling stock and donating the cash.

Julie decides to support BC Women’s Health Foundation with $100,000 gift. When reviewing the choice of selling her shares and then donating the cash proceeds or donating the shares directly, Julie learns that she would have a greater net tax benefit by donating the shares directly. The chart below assumes a tax rate of 50%.

GIFTS OF SECURITIES THROUGH YOUR ESTATE

When your executor donates securities, your estate does not pay capital gains tax on the appreciated securities and it also benefits from the full charitable tax receipt.

We are pleased to recognize your promised gift, should you choose, along with those of other supporters.
